Tutoring Experience

Over the past 13 years, I have guided students through the challenging IB Geography curriculum, with a focus on Physical and Human Geography at SL and HL levels. I’ve also taught Global Perspectives for IGCSE, fostering analytical and critical thinking skills essential for the subject. My students have consistently achieved high results, with many excelling in international examinations.

In addition to one-on-one tutoring, I’ve served as a subject lead in prestigious international schools. This experience has allowed me to develop comprehensive lesson plans and coordinate assessment strategies, ensuring alignment with rigorous academic standards. My commitment to student success has earned me recognition as a supportive and results-driven educator.
